

SO, your MST paper is due preferably Wednesday, but by 12 Thursday at any rate.
This round I WANT HARD COPIES from everyone.

Questions:

To What extent do you feel the MST has been a success?

To what extent do you think the MST represents a 'complete revolution in social behavior', and what does this mean to you?

What do you think we as Americans can learn from the lessons of the MST?

How do you think the size/shear numbers of people involved effects the relative success or failure of the MST?

What is the most significant thing you have learned from this book? Do you think the authors give a fair and comprehensive treatment of the MST? What else would you like to have seen them discuss?

What does it mean to judge a movement from the bottom up or the top down?

How are political and cultural change intertwined within the MST and the issues of agrarian reform in Brazil?

I want you to go into significant detail on this paper, and I would suggest aiming for 4 pages rather than three.

Keep your fingers crossed tomorrow.
